Please type, print, and attach your answers to all of the questions below. As a guideline, answers to Questions 1 and 2 should be roughly at least 250 words but no more than 500 words.

1. Tell us about your commitment to Washburn and/or your participation in Washburn activities, what they have meant to you, and how your involvement has served the greater good either within your group or to the larger Washburn community. "Commitment and/or participation" could mean service, volunteerism, leadership, athletics, arts, clubs, or groups.
2. Are there significant obstacles or challenges you have faced that you have overcome to get to where you are today? Please explain. If you feel that you have not encountered many obstacles or challenges, what do you attribute that to? Please explain.
3. How do you plan on financing your post-secondary studies for next year alone? Be as detailed as you can: Include cost of attendance, expected "free money (grants, known scholarships)", family savings, money earned from your employment, and expected loans. This question may require you to talk to your parents, guardians, or someone who understands your finances. Yes, your answer may be only speculative. You need not write in paragraph style if you don't want to. A simple bullet-pointed list will suffice but feel free to elaborate if needed.

What you write is much more important than how much you write. There is no right or wrong answer. You will not be solely judged based on your level of service to Washburn, your resilience, or your financial need. Consideration for this scholarship is based on a variety of factors.

Scholarship winners will be announced in late May**
